Building Permit for Apartment Rejected

At a special meeting Wednesday afternoon, city commissioners unanimously passed a motion denying the application of the Kohlruss Construction company to build a $100,000 apartment project. The application was denied, according to the motion, because the plans for the structure show it will occupy a portion of the north 30 feet of lot six in the Hollohan addition which the city plans to use to extend Shoup avenue.

One of the major reasons put forth by the commissioners for extension of Shoup avenue is that it will provide an additional direct route to the county hospital and eliminate the difficulty of approaching and leaving the hospital grounds from U. S. highway 30. The commissioners also pointed out that it would open the area between Martin and Washington streets for further development.

A petition signed by property owners between Martin and Washington streets Nov. 28, 1949, requested the extension of Shoup avenue.

All but one of the other property owners have granted right-of-way deed but the land owner of the proposed apartment project wants $2,-200 for the 30 by 300 foot strip across the lot. Damages to that amount are claimed if the building site is moved.

Henry Kohlruss is contractor for the project which is being financed through Va, G. Swim.

City Manager William Smith said no further action by the commissioners is anticipated until the meeting Monday night. At that time the commissioners hope to come to some agreement with the backers of the apartment project whereby the city will not have to pay the full price asked for the land.

Counsel for the builders attended the special meeting and expressed approval that the commissioners had brought the matter to a head. The attorney was not prepared to speak for the clients regarding the commissioners' action, preferring to let the matter stand until the next meeting.

The city manager, City Attorney J. H. Blandford and Attorney Harry Benoit met with the commissioners before the meeting to discuss the proposed extension of Shoup avenue. While the matter of condemnation proceedings was discussed, along with other legal problems involved, no action was taken other than denial of the building application.

Dulles Takes Adviser Post For Acheson

NEW YORK, April 6 (U.P.)—John Foster Dulles accepted the post of foreign policy adviser to the secretary of state today with the statement that Soviet Russia has posed a threat to the United States "as grave as any we have ever faced in a shooting war."

Dulles said he accepted after talking during the last 48 hours with President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

No Title Conferred

His job did not carry a title, he added, and he had not investigated the question of salary.

In a press conference at his home, Dulles made it plain he did not concur in the charges made by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R., Wis., and others against Acheson in regard to alleged communist infiltration of the state department.

First announcement of Dulles' acceptance came from Michael J. McDermott, state department press officer, in Washington.

Will Advise Acheson

McDermott said Dulles would advise Acheson "on broad problems in the field of foreign affairs and on specific lines of action which this government should follow."

Dulles' appointment was another move by the administration to close the breach with the Republican party on the bipartisan foreign policy issue.

McDermott said Dulles' work would not be confined to any specific area of the world. He said Dulles' "broad background and wealth of experience" qualified him to consider problems in Europe, as far east and other areas of the world" as well as United Nations issues.

Church President Says Globe Must 'Turn to Religion'

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6 (U.P.)—The 120th annual general conference of the LDS church opened here today with the warning by President George Albert Smith that the world must turn to God to avoid war.

Sessions of the conference, attended today by more than 9,000 persons, and broadcast throughout the mountain states, will last through Sunday.

The venerable leader of more than 1,000,000 Mormons said in his opening address that "when we realize the uncertainty in the world today, that all nations are armed to the teeth prepared for war—we know that unless they repent and turn to God, war and pestilence will surely come and destroy humanity."

Reuben Clark, first counselor in the first presidency, reported on the church welfare and financial security plan. He said the total cash expenditures last year were $33,925,000, including $19,725,000 from the general fund.

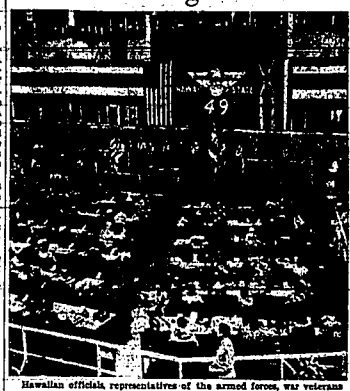

Threat to Pacific Islands Stressed

WASHINGTON, April 6 (U.P.)—Rep. Francis E. Walter said today a communist invasion of strategic U. S. military outposts in the Pacific "presents a grave threat to national security."

The Pennsylvania Democrat will head a house un-American activities committee investigation of communist infiltration in Hawaii. It plans to leave here Saturday and open hearings in Honolulu Monday.

"It is folly to assume that Russia has overlooked any opportunity to plant subversive agents on military important Pacific islands," Walter said.

'Running Start'

Hawaiian officials, representatives of the armed forces, war veterans and 49 delegates are shown at work as Hawaii's state constitutional convention got under way in the national guard armory in Honolulu. The statehood bill is still before congress, which gives the convention a "running start" if it passes. Hawaii's desire to become the 49th state is shown in the flag display over the rostrum—the stars and stripes on one side and the flag of old Hawaii on the other.—(NEA telephoto)

"Painless Birth" Proves Truthful For Mother, 17

OROVILLE, Calif., April 6 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Mrs. Joyce Chapman was listening to a radio program on painless child birth.

"All of a sudden I heard a cry and there he was," she said.

The young mother wrapped her premature baby in a heavy coat, laid him on the bed. Then she walked two miles to a mine to break the news to her husband, Jack 22.

This story of painless childbirth last Sunday was told today by Dr. Charles B. Cribbs, who attended Mrs. Chapman in her seven months of pregnancy.

He said she apparently was in just the right physical and psychological physical condition. He placed the 5-pound, 6-ounce, boy in an incubator after the couple brought the child home from their country home to a hospital here. Dr. Cribbs said the baby was "doing fine." Mrs. Chapman required no medical treatment, he added.

House Passes 'Compromise' Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, April 6 (U.P.)—The house today unanimously approved and sent to the senate the compromise housing bill. Senate approval of the measure is expected next week.

Chairman Brent Spence, D., Ky., got house approval of the measure shortly before the house started a 10-day Easter recess.

The compromise would:

1. Provide $250,000,000 for purchase of home mortgages by the federal national mortgage association.

2. Authorize government insurance of loans to veterans. The effect would be:

3. Permit the federal housing administration corporation to use $12,500,000 left-over funds to guarantee private loans on prefabricated houses.

4. Authorize the government to hand over to local communities 45,000 war-built units for low cost housing projects.

5. Provide up $900,000,000 for long-range loans at 2.5 per cent maximum interest to educational institutions for student and faculty housing.

6. Provide $2,250,000,000 in additional mortgage insurance under the federal program for private home building.

Truman Seeks Expansion for Aid to Jobless

KEY WEST, Fla., April 6 (U.P.)—President Truman sent to congress today a five-point program for increasing unemployment compensation benefits approximately 20 per cent and extending coverage to an additional 6,000,000 persons.

Under the Truman plan, benefits would average 50 per cent of a worker's pay up to a maximum of $30 a week. Benefit payments in various states now range between $15 and $27 a week with a national average of about $20. Mr. Truman's recommendation would boost the national average to $24.

Support Rate On '50 Wool Set by USDA

WASHINGTON, April 6 (U.P.)—The agriculture department has announced it will support producer prices of 1950 wool at a national average of 48.3 cents a pound.

The 1949 farm law permits wool support rates to run from 60 to 90 per cent of the so-called "parity," or fair, price.

But it also says supports must be set at a level which will encourage the production of 360,000,000 pounds a year.

With wool production running far below that level, the department said recently it was required to set support at 90 per cent of the March 15 parity price of 50.2 cents a pound for wool.

Runs to March 31

The support program will be carried out through government purchases of shorn and pulled wool, if necessary. The support program will run from April 1, 1950, to March 31, 1951.

The department said the schedule of purchase prices under the program will be issued in a few days. It said the price relationship between various grades of wool will be different than last year.

Trio Reports New Coast Submarine

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif., April 6 (U.P.)—Three men reported to the sheriff's office here today they saw a submarine surface one mile off the California coast.

The sheriff's office said it notified the coast guard cutter Albert in nearby Morro bay.

Labor Union Merger Idea Gains Favor

WASHINGTON, April 6 (U.P.)—A possible merger of the AFL and CIO suddenly has become a serious topic of conversation in labor circles.

The treasurer of AFL President William Green's observation that the chances for such a move are "better today than they have been in the past six years."

Green was commenting on a proposal put forward by Philip Murray, president of the CIO.

All Invited to Join

Murray invited the AFL, John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers, the International Association of Machinists, and the railroad brotherhoods to join in a grand program of cooperation on legislation, politics, and economic problems.

One thing is clear, Murray said, the groups could work toward unification into a single organization of some 16,000,000 members. The AFL claims 8,000,000 and the CIO 6,000,000—and the other organizations about 2,000,000, together.

Split in Past

Green and Murray have split in the past over how unification should be accomplished, and their differences still seemed to exist.

The AFL chief favors immediate consolidation—as contrasted with the step-by-step procedure suggested by Murray. Green made clear in an interview in New Orleans that he hasn't changed his mind.

School Cleared to Capture 2 Bandits

FILLMORE, Utah, April 6 (U.P.)—Two men suspected of robbery and kidnaping were captured in an elementary school by a sheriff's posse here today.

Sheriff Gilbert Robison said the children had to be dismissed from the school before the officers could affect the capture.

Nebraska Governor to Speak At Reclamation Meeting Here

BOISE, April 6 (U.P.)—Nebraska's Gov. Val Peterson will be principal speaker at the Idaho State Reclamation association annual convention in Twin Falls May 1 and 2.

Charles H. Welteroth of Jerome, president of the association, said Idaho's Gov. C. A. Robins has invited governors of six northwest and intermountain states to attend the session. These include governors of Oregon, Washington, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada and Utah.

Other principal speakers for the convention will be Governor Robins, State Reclamation Engineer Mark R. Ruiz and representatives of the bureau of reclamation and corps of army engineers.

Welteroth said Peterson would address the banquet meeting on May 1. The Nebraska chief executive is a member of the interagency committee for the Missouri river basin.

The final day of the convention will be turned over to "grass roots" discussions of water problems by representatives of various Idaho irrigation and canal companies.

Governor Peterson made a bid with irrigation farmers of the west last fall at Salt Lake City when he addressed the National Reclamation association," Welteroth said. "His first-hand experience in dealing with problems of river basin development in the mid-west has made him a leading exponent of local and state control over water resources."

Red Charges 'Base, Contemptible Lies,' Lattimore Testifies

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Owen Lattimore denounced as "base and contemptible lies" today the charge that he is a Russian spy. He swore he is not and never has been a communist.

From the witness chair of a senate committee, the 50-year-old Johns Hopkins professor said (A) he intends to talk with his lawyers about suing Senator McCarthy, R., Wis., for making the accusations and (B) he hopes to be the "instrument" of McCarthy's resignation from the senate.

Lattimore testified before a packed hearing room to the senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charges that the state department is infested with communists and their friends.

Spectators filled all the public seats and were lined three and four deep around the wall of the big room.

Request Denied

McCarthy was sitting behind the committee table, but is not a member of the committee, but asked yesterday for the right to cross-examine Mr. Lattimore. The committee denied him that privilege but said he could submit questions through committee members.

McCarthy told reporters he would not do that.

Next Thursday, the committee will hear "mystery witnesses" McCarthy says he can produce to back up his charges against Lattimore. The senator says one of these can testify that Lattimore was a member of a Communist party member.

Speaks Earnestly

As for that charge, Lattimore solemnly told the senators:

"I make to you on my solemn oath the following statement:

"I am not and never have been a member of the Communist party. I have never been affiliated or associated with the Communist party.

"I have never followed the principles of communism nor subscribed to nor accepted the principles of communism. I have never taken either within the United States, in the whole world or anywhere else any action which could be interpreted as favorable to communism.

"I have never knowingly done anything which could be interpreted as favorable to the interests of the Soviet Union as against the interests of the United States."

Witness Relates High Cost in Gate Opening

BOISE, April 6 (U.P.)—A railroad consultant said today opening of the Ogden gateway would be costly in time and expense to Pacific northwest shippers.

W. F. Kirk, Colorado Springs, Colo., a railroad operations consultant, told the interstate commerce commission the Union Pacific's present route to the east is "200 miles . . . and a full day shorter in transportation time" than the routes the Denver-and-Rio Grande railroad seeks to establish.

Kirk, who served as western director, railway transport division of the office of defense transportation, during most of the war period, said the Ogden and Salt Lake City terminals were congested at that time.

Kirk said he did not in the war period authorize diversion of Pacific northwest traffic via the D&RGW lines because the U. P. route was "shorter and direct and by-passed the highly burdened Ogden and Salt Lake City inter-change gateways."

Would Hurt U. P.

He said the U. P. would be "glaringly short-hauled" were the Rio Grande allowed the joint competitive through rates it seeks in its petition to the ICC.

"In addition to the short-hauling of the originating carrier, the shorter railroad is entitled to the longer haul on the return movement of the same car, whether it be loaded or empty," Kirk said.

Offered Aid to D & RGW

Under cross-examination by Robert E. Quirk, U. P. general counsel, Kirk admitted he had first offered his services to the D and RGW on Aug. 4, 1942.

He admitted also that while the Rio Grande was taking his time deciding whether to retain him, he got an offer from the Union Pacific and accepted it.

Quirk also produced a letter written by Kirk to F. C. Mogue, vice president of the D and RGW saying:

"I don't see too much for the U.P. to squawk about if the southwest lines are with you."

"At the time you wrote this letter," counsel for the attorney, "you didn't think up anything to squawk about and now you are here squawking for them."

"Yes," replied Kirk.

Exhibits Presented

P. V. Webb of the Union Pacific's general auditing staff, presented exhibits in which he said "in practically every instance the haul by the D&RGW results in a lesser

Frost's Sentence Reduced to Four Years by Board

BOISE, April 6 (U.P.)—The Idaho board of pardons today reshaped sentences of parole applications after commuting the 10-year sentence on Fount O. Frost, 71, Bliss, to four years.

The board also denied a commutation of sentence or pardon for Chesney Ayres, Boise, serving 10 years for involuntary manslaughter growing out of an automobile accident which cost six lives.

Frost entered the penitentiary on Dec. 8, 1945, after his conviction on a second manslaughter charge in the shooting of Junior Carl Broadhead at Hagerman, July 24, 1945.

The board, at the opening of its quarterly meeting yesterday, acted on seven cases. It granted final releases in two of the less serious cases and has a number still held and more than 60 applications pending.

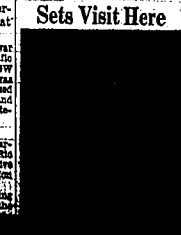

Union Men Vote To Aid Bridges

SAN PEDRO, Calif., April 6 (U.P.)—The CIO Longshoremen's union lined up today behind their fiery leader, Harry Bridges, in his fight to reverse his conviction on charges he lied about former Communist party ties.

A union caucus meeting here branded Bridges' conviction "a miscarriage of justice" and pledged him "full and unqualified" financial and moral support in the legal battle ahead.

"We maintain the verdict was based on testimony by paid informers and self-admitted perjurers and is a miscarriage of justice," the caucus said in a resolution adopted yesterday after four hours of debate.

VA Delaying Dismissals of Medical Help

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The veterans administration today called off, at least temporarily, its plans to dismiss 4,700 hospital and clinic employes next May 31.

The VA also abandoned for the time being plans to close a number of medical clinics, and ordered it to go ahead with the scheduled dismissal by next Monday of 2,000 non-medical personnel.

The agency said Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., has asked the budget bureau for a supplemental fund of $1,000,000 to keep its medical personnel employed through the end of the fiscal year next June 30.

Gray had ordered 30-day dismissal notices sent March 10 to about 7,000 VA employes, including the 2,000 doctors, nurses and other medical personnel.

He said then the dismissals, which were set for April 10, were necessary to stay within budget appropriations.

Gray sent telegrams today to managers of all hospitals and to regional directors in charge of medical clinics. He ordered them to let him know by tomorrow the actual number of employes affected by temporary deferment of the proposed medical-personnel cuts.

Gray notified the budget bureau he needs $1,110,000 for the salaries of 3,070 medical personnel in the hospitals for the remainder of the current fiscal year, and $1,080,000 for 1,700 more in out-patient medical clinics in the regional offices.

Truman Message Asks More Cash

WASHINGTON, April 6 (U.P.)—President Truman sent to congress yesterday two requests for supplemental appropriations totaling $176,906,194.

The money is needed to meet certain government expenses not included in the budget for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Of the total, $79,897,861 is earmarked for increased pay and travel costs resulting from legislation adopted by congress since the fiscal 1950 budget was drawn up.

Witness Testifies Before Senate Group

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) said today he has been told by Owen Lattimore that he is not a communist.

Lucas told reporters that Lattimore, controversial Johns Hopkins professor, made the statement to him in a telephone conversation.

Lucas said he has been told by Lattimore that he has never been a member of the Communist party.

Up Victory as DP Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON, April 6 (U.P.)—The administration jubilantly chalked up a major victory in its campaign for passage of its liberalizing displaced persons bill.

Sen. Harley M. Kilgore, D., W. Va., who sponsored the measure, promptly hailed it as a "good, workable bill." He predicted senate-house conferees would have no trouble resolving minor differences between it and a bill the house approved last year.

88 Roll-Call Votes

The senate adopted Kilgore's measure on a 88 to 15 roll call near midnight last night after a long, 12-hour session. There were fully 30 roll-call votes—an all-time record in the marathon session. The previous high, 27 roll calls, was set last year during debate on the house bill.

It finally approved, the Kilgore bill would:

1. Raise the limit on the number of DP's admissible into the United States from the present 205,000 ceiling to 339,000.

Cuts Requirement

2. Eliminate the present requirement that 30 per cent of the DP's must be farmers and 40 per cent must be from Baltic nations.

3. Extend from the Jan. 22, 1949, until Jan. 1, 1951, the date on which a refugee must be a recognized DP camp to be eligible for entry into the United States.

The house bill is generally similar, but would admit only 339,000 DP's.

'Starved' Actress Gains New 'Home'

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (AP)—Mary Michael, 58, was committed today of their foster daughter, Lora Lee Michael, because a judge decided the 5-foot, 90-pound actress needed a new environment to make her a normal child.

After a brief hearing in juvenile hall Superior Judge Ben R. Hoffman ordered Lora Lee a ward of the court. He said she would be placed with a well-adjusted family to give her a normal family life.

Her foster mother, Mrs. Lorraine Michael, 38, was acquitted last month of charges she mistreated and kept the girl in a sub-standard diet to keep her tiny for $100-a-day movie roles.

Gambling Inquiry Slated by Solons

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The senate crime committee plans to start an investigation into the nation's organized gambling next week.

In making the announcement yesterday, the committee stepped ahead of the senate judiciary group, which has been competing with it for authority to conduct the inquiry.

Senator Kefauver (D., Tenn.) said a committee staff group will start preliminary investigations under his direction next week and open hearings April 11 on a bill which would bring federal prohibition of gambling information by interstate communications.

Red Charges Termed Lies By Lattimore

10,000-Word Statement

Hitting back hard in a 10,000-word statement, Lattimore said McCarthy has violated his responsibility "by making the government of the United States an object of suspicion in the eyes of the anti-communist world, and undoubtedly the laughing stock of the communist governments."

Lattimore also declared that McCarthy has impaired the effectiveness of this government in its relations with its friends and allies."

"Reign of Terror"

He accused the Wisconsin senator of "initiation of a reign of terror among officials and employes in the United States government, none of whom can be sure of being free from attack by the hatemongers of irresponsible publicity in Joseph McCarthy's hands."

Lattimore is director of a school of international relations at Johns Hopkins university. He flew back to this country from a United Nations meeting in Afghanistan after McCarthy made his accusations.

Used Secret Files

Lattimore told the inquiry committee McCarthy has:

1. "Without authorization used secret documents obtained from official government files."

2. Willfully libeled me by himself and his high office by refusing to live up to his word."

Explains Charge

In saying McCarthy had failed to live up to his word, Lattimore noted the senator had promised the senate any charges he made under the cloak of congressional immunity would be made on the floor so Lattimore put it, "in the open where I could be heard in my own defense."

He said that if he should fail to do this he would resign. He has been called to repeat his charges so that he may defend himself in a court of action. He has failed to do so. And he has not resigned."

Truckers Confer With Road Chiefs

BOISE, April 8 (UP)—Gov. C. A. Robins has called top highway officials to another conference with logging and mining truckers on road load limits.

The discussions will come after a logging delegation, primarily from north Idaho, yesterday and asked the group to come back at 10 a. m. today. Summoned to participate in the meeting were State Highway Commission J. R. McKinney and Highway Engineer James Reid.

The discussions concerned the matter of posting the highways for load limits. In some cases, it was pointed out, it might be possible to increase the load limits. In other cases, it might be necessary to reduce them.

No Heed Paid Martin's Plan On Prosperity

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—The house listened languidly yesterday to an appeal by Republican Leader Martin—Massachusetts, for a "non-partisan five-point program for prosperity.

Martin asked congress and the White House to: (1) scrap wartime excises; (2) give tax relief to small businesses; (3)—balance the budget; (4) mind the tariff walls, and (5) remove the "threat of socialization."

Reads During Debate

He read the address during debate on the $29,045,530,000 omnibus appropriation bill.

At one point in the debate only 29 congressmen were counted on the floor—one for each billion of proposed 1951 spending for the bulk of the federal government.

Martin said a budget balance, through spending cut, is the surest guarantee of national economic strength. He made no specific economy proposals.

Others Stress Theme

Other GOP speakers stressed the economy theme.

A Democrat, Representative Norrell, Arkansas, thought the appropriations committee has done a good job of paring the president's budget.

Martin did not disclose his position on a proposed $600,000,000 increase in national defense spending, which now is slated for $13,911,127,300 for the year starting July 1.

The sheriff's office said charges would be filed against Keath.

Martin lived only a few seconds after he was struck. Three other pickets and three police officers also were hit but received only minor injuries.

Varied Topics Considered by Village Board

RICHFIELD, April 6—Reorganization of a volunteer fire department, irrigation water for town lots and repairing of streets and alleys were discussed at the Richfield village board meeting Monday evening.

A decision to spend $1,000 for fire equipment was made to add a small motorized pumping unit which will use a wetting agent to spread the water over a greater surface.

Regular drill practices and a definite organization with study of fire prevention is planned for the volunteer fire department.

Equipment Available

While the village has no actual fire department, it does have all the essential equipment with a few exceptions, one of which is a hose nozzle for the fire hoses. Town water now is metered to patrons and more water remains in the tank than making a supply available in case of fire emergency.

A letter was read from the village attorney, Ben Haddock, referring to a statement from the Idaho Irrigation company whereby the village has agreed to use the water for watering the parkway trees, and for road sprinkling within the village limits. No mention was made in the agreement whereby water would be supplied to the village for purposes within the village boundaries.

Retailon planned

The board anticipates much more ditch water will be used by residents this year for watering lawns because of meter installation for all water coming from the town pump. A roadside program is planned to insure each resident a just share of ditch water.

A request was received from the LDS church to open the streets north of the church and a block south and to the right side of the Catholic church. Reason for the request was plans by the church to landscape its property and install sidewalks.

Action Deferred

No definite action on the request was taken by the board in view of the other necessary expenditures on hand. Payment of the board has been to open only those streets where additional building is taking place. Action was deferred to open streets in the business section.

One year permission was granted Clifford Conner to pipe waste water across the street to his residence for use on lawn and garden.

Permission to install a gasoline pump on the sidewalk in front of the Richfield Motor Service Mart was granted to Robert Simerly.

In view of the proposed street oil construction, it was deemed advisable to open the alleys with such additional installations out of the streets.

Action was taken on the request of Orville Hand and Sherman Coffman to open alleys in their residence block. Since there were no objections the two men were advised to continue to open the alleys with the provision that would be no cost to the village.

Report was given by Justice of the Peace L. C Reed and the town marshal, Lloyd Maestas. One fine of $10 with $3 costs had been paid Justice Reed, and a case of disturbance of the peace in a local pool hall. A charge against Mac Procter in the same altercation was dismissed.

Election judges appointed for the May 2 village bond election were Mrs. Pamela Fehlman, Mrs. M. M. Pridmore, and Mrs. Ross Swainston, clerk. Mrs. Clifford Conner and Mrs. Birk Albert were appointed as alternates.

Voting will be between 9 a. m. and 7 p. m. at the town library room on May 2.

THAT STATE INVESTIGATION

First, Clarence Saunders, head of the liquor law enforcement division, was given a "leave of absence," presumably until an investigation had been completed, or the "whole affair" had been white-washed.

Then when it became apparent to Saunders that he was being made the goat of all the agitation which flared up during the special session of the legislature, he challenged Governor Robins to a showdown.

Not only did Saunders say he was ready to undergo the most rigid investigation to clear himself of all suspicion, but he assured the governor he was prepared to point out "irregularities" in the department of law enforcement.

Soon thereafter the governor was in conference with Saunders and other state officials. The outgrowth of Saunders' challenge was a promise by the chief executive that there would be a thorough investigation of all the state departments under suspicion, with no attempt to whitewash anything which might be uncovered.

Since then, time has been marching on without much news from Boise on the progress of the investigation which the governor is supposed to be conducting.

Meanwhile, whether it has any connection with what might be going on behind the scenes—a lieutenant and a patrolman of the state police department have been dismissed at Idaho Falls on charges of violating regulations. State Law Enforcement Commissioner R. C. Lewis declined to disclose the nature of the violations.

Coincident with these dismissals was a well founded report that another state police officer was facing discharge.

The way things have shaped up in state affairs during recent months, Governor Robins had better come clean with the investigation he has promised if he or any other Republicans close to the present state administration have any ideas of running for political office in the forthcoming election.

They may hope that all the agitation for an investigation will be forgotten if it's postponed long enough, but if that's what they're thinking they're in for a surprise. The people have good reason to believe that all is not well in Boise and unless there's a housecleaning they'll probably not want any more of the same.

FLYING SAUCERS

We do not care to go out of our way to appear ridiculous, but we're inclined to believe nevertheless that there's more to this flying saucer business than the air force or the White House will admit.

When David Lawrence's weekly magazine, United States News and World Report, declared the other day that "flying saucers exist," we believe it had good basis for the various statements it made to substantiate its contention.

Then, too, there are hundreds of responsible individuals who have reported seeing flying objects resembling saucers. To assume that all these people were drunk, pranksters, or that they couldn't tell the difference between a vapor trail and a wind sock doesn't make too much sense to our way of thinking.

To us it would seem more logical to assume that strange things actually have been flying through the air, whether they are saucers or something else. From whence they come—another country, our own, or another planet—is a question which only adds to the mystery.

But in this age of harnessed atomic energy what's so fantastic about flying saucers, space ships, or anything else that might come to one's mind?

We were quite amused when Charles G. Ross, President Truman's press secretary, tried to pooh-pooh all the talk about flying saucers.

"Do you think it likely that there would be any secret weapon project underway without the President knowing about it?" Ross was asked at a news conference.

"I think it extremely unlikely," he said in reply.

We might add, it would be "extremely unlikely" that the President would divulge any secret information if he did know it. And it's entirely possible that this is one secret he knows nothing about.

TRAFFIC JAM

To anyone who may think the big cities are permanently solving their traffic problems by construction of multi-laned expressways, a few statistics from officials in the New York area will serve as a corrective.

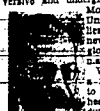

Authorities announced that traffic on parkways in Westchester county on the city's northern border increased 15 per cent last year. They added that it can be expected to rise 10 per cent a year for the next five years at least.

By 1955, they predicted, these routes will be virtually impassable on peak traffic days. Some of them are that way for short periods with the present volume.

In solving the traffic problem in such large centers as New York, we are plainly back to scratch. The average motorist can't be blamed if he clamors impatiently to hear what the engineer's next dream is to be.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Top military and diplomatic officials here and abroad are imploring President Truman to carry the "cold war" into Russian territory by financing and organizing the same sort of subversive and underground movements overseas that Moscow has directed against the United States and its western allies. They maintain that we can never win with our present high-sloven, under-writing and speech-making policy.

Ray Tucker

While they also urge creation of a far-reaching spy system similar to the office of strategic services headed by "Wild Bill" Donovan during World war II, that kind of counter-thrust is not their principal purpose.

What they recommend is American revival of the underground resistance movements that proved so effective against Hitler, provoking army plots to depose him.

WELCOME—In several Russian provinces, notably the Ukraine and Byelorussia, and in several satellite countries, there are thousands of survivors of sporadic and scattered anti-Stalin groups. Reports leaking out from those regions convince our intelligence experts they would welcome American assistance looking toward inducement of unrest, dissension and actual outbreaks against the kremlin.

Our present policy of waiting until the dust settles, hardly seems to encourage them to organize against the "terror." They want active aid, central direction, propaganda supplies and facilities, even arms in some places.

In short, they are only waiting the same sort of outside help which the Donovan agencies gave to anti-axis cliques in occupied France, Germany, Italy, North Africa and the Balkans during the recent conflict.

OBVIOUS—It is obvious that Americans cannot take charge of these on-the-ground counter-activities. Our people are too easily spotted by their appearance, their speech and western habits to engage in this kind of penetration, infiltration and filibustering. But it would not be difficult to reassemble and recruit from the anti-communist dissidents.

In fact, it is understood that OSS files contain a list of names of eastern European, Balkan and Chinese leaders who would form the hard core of the worldwide anti-Stalin conspiracy. Rank-and-file personnel could be drawn from labor unions, religious groups, dissatisfied politicians and patriotic volunteers.

FAILURE—Our present counter-spy and counter-propaganda offensive is admittedly a failure insofar as promoting dynamic revolutionary movements.

The Voice of America does a good job within its limitations. It aims to expose communist threats to a people's freedom, and to ennoble our ambitions and principles. But a radio reaching from 3,000 to 4,000 miles away impresses the harassed and suppressed audience as only so much "pie in the sky."

Our diplomatic establishment in every city controlled by communists is merely isolated groups. Moscovite and satellite guards walk sentry outside their residences and offices. Whenever they make a move outside their doors, they are "tailed" by hostile observers.

JITTERS—Stalin's spies, however, penetrate deep into government councils and parliaments, labor unions and civic organizations, army and navy circles in the nation. Our army-air-navy officers abroad are jittery over their detailed knowledge of all our economic and military plans for aiding western Europe, Italy, Greece, Asia and Turkey against Russian attack.

Moscow agents working as longshoremen, railroad despatchers and retail distributors have full information on our shipment of civilian and military goods. In the same way they get data on old and new installations—airfields, naval bases, fortifications etc.—from communist members of the unions or ordinary citizens.

PROBLEM—On a higher level, the Fuchs, Coplon-Gubitchev, Hiss and Canadian revelations prove that they have no difficulty obtaining details on our atomic, and possibly our H-bomb status.

It is no exaggeration, according to our military and diplomatic men, to say that Hitler had an army of "fifth columns" which make Hitler's system seem like a Boy Scout troop. The number of fifth columnists in the U. S. alone is placed at 540,000.

Meanwhile, such experienced men as Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower, General Donovan and Bernard M. Baruch warn, we have exactly nothing either to offset this organization or to build a similar, anti-Stalin bonfire abroad.

This problem has No. 1 priority among the "cold war" strategists today.

SPOT—Prospective passage of the Kerr bill exempting natural gas gatherers from regulation by the federal power commission places President Truman on a spot—although he has denounced a similar house measure as inspired by "reactionary interests," he promised some time ago to approve the Oklahoma senator's proposal if it reached his desk. Otherwise, Senate Leader Lucas would not have scheduled it for debate and action.

Meanwhile, however, several fair deal senators, notably Paul Douglas of Illinois, Lucas colleague, declared that the measure would mean a sharp increase in natural gas rates to the consumer. They have charged that Senator Kerr, an oil multimillionaire, would profit from it.

Leading Democrats from oil-gas states, including Sens. Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson of Texas, spoke for the anti-FPC measure, and Mr. Truman owes them a lot. But his approval will offend members from urban consuming areas, who lined up against the proposition, and also give the GOP a chance to charge that his professions for the "little fellow" are false.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

MRS. ACHESON'S TWO DOLLARS

Think of the fate that attended the two bucks which Mrs. Acheson contributed to the League of Women Shoppers, and be warned. How many simoleons have been separated from you either by worthy causes or by importunate solicitors?

That worthy group you aided with a dollar the other day in behalf of a memorial to Robert Browning might have lurking in its sponsorship a follower of Marx. One day he will be exposed, and your dollar will suddenly look as red as Moscow, and it will be traced to you. Then you will get your name in the paper as a Marxist, or something.

Or that lobby for renewal of rent control may have tapped you for largesses. Wonder now what it has piled up to? Even the million box will soon look doubtful. Who knows whether that two bits you dropped in hopefully for the salvation of the heathen has actually saved a score of Chinese communists?

If Senator McCarthy goes on dredging up such tidbits as this for the edification of the Republican party, we may say with the poet, "Alas for the rarity of Christian charity." In spite of the Biblical injunction that we devote a tenth part to almsgiving.

Causes, like people, come in good and bad shapes. They change from good to bad, and from bad to good. If the present thing keeps up, then charity will not only begin at home, it will stay at home.—Washington Post.

QUEST FOR SECURITY

Secretary Acheson meant it when, in his speech at Berkeley, he disclaimed any attempt to change the government or social structure of the Soviet Union, to "liberate" people style satellites, to usurp other peoples' freedom or power.

Yet the probabilities are, as he said, that the leaders of the kremlin will refuse to believe, or at least profess to refuse to believe, his clear statement. Meanwhile, the United States and the rest of the free world properly refuse to believe Russia's protestations of a desire for peace and democratic progress the world.

This is the deadlock which, if it could be resolved, could end the cold war. The key to it may lie in the secretary's recognition of the need of all nations and all peoples for security.

An iron-clad mutual guarantee of security needs to be devised, a guarantee which unhesitatingly puts into practice what each side professes to believe. To be of any value, it must be a guarantee from which neither side could escape, even if it would.

Thus far, no such guarantee has been put forward. Each side is pursuing its independent search for security in its own way. And the cold war continues. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

POT SHOTS

ALL MIXED UP

Dear Pots:

Since the Whiffenpoof song was one of my favorites, I was tempted to get out the record and see just what rhythm it is. To my amazement, it's two rhythms! The stanza is four-four, or foxtrot; the verse is three-four, or a waltz.

This confusion has given rise to some thinking on my part. Do you suppose that many instances of confused rhythms have created this national lack of interest in dancing we hear about? Surely in one dance you aren't going to waltz and foxtrot especially when it takes me, at least, several playings to come to my conclusion. Have dance orchestras lost the definite beats that make it apparent right away whether a number is a foxtrot, a waltz or what have you?

In support of this idea, look at your records cut before 1940. Surely find the tempo right on the record. Look at later ones and the indication isn't there. Perhaps this explains why you see the teenagers do the same step at the same speed, a sort of shuffle, to every number played. Younger dancers jitterbug. The two are all you can do!

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — With the changes President Truman is initiating in the defense establishment it should be possible to take a second look at defense spending to see whether the public is getting a dollar's worth of defense for each dollar spent. That is, it will be possible if Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson gives the new men in his department even a little independence.

Marquis Childs

As General Eisenhower made abundantly clear in his testimony, there is no room for waste. And the suspicion is growing that the hobnobbing and entertaining tolerated in the defense establishment but perhaps even encouraged.

A conspicuous example that should be looked into at once is the air national guard. It is costing this year $114,500,000 and the amount asked in the 1951 budget is $103,935,000. Not air force officers alone but high-ranking officers in the other two services with experience in military spending believe most of this is being wasted insofar as any contribution to national security is concerned.

It happens that the air national guard is a very hot political potato. Almost no one will talk about it. But here are some of the facts.

The very able retiring secretary of the army, Gordon Gray, was named head of a board to study the role of the air guard. After long and painstaking study the board issued in June, 1948, a report recommending in effect that the air national guard be placed under federal control with air force standards applied.

The retiring secretary of the air force, W. Stuart Symington, approved the Gray board findings in his 1948 report. One of the ablest men in the air force, Lieut.-Gen. Elwood Quesada, was assigned to the air national guard with instructions to see that standards were observed.

But powerful political pressure began to build up to prevent the Gray board recommendation from being carried through. This had its origin in part in the National Guard association, which jealously resents any suggestion of federalization whether by the army or the air force.

Another source of opposition lay in the privileges and prerogatives enjoyed by governors of the states and others who have access to national guard planes. When the issue was put up to Johnson shortly after he took over as secretary of defense, his first remark was:

"But that will mean taking the planes away from the governors."

In many states the governor uses a national guard plane as his private plane. Although this is contrary to regulations, many of these planes have been altered for the comfort of the governor and his family. This has its basis in prestige to shift the weight of a DC-3 requires considerable technical knowledge and skill. These planes are all carried on the records as supply carriers.

At the annual conference of governors last June in Colorado Springs, more than 30 governors affirmed in air national guard planes. In many instances they brought with them their wives and children and wives' friends and the children's friends. All these names were recorded on forms sent to Washington. Since it was contrary to regulation, the forms were carefully ignored.

There will be those to say, "Well, doesn't President Truman fly around in his private plane? And Louis Johnson? Why shouldn't the governor of a state?" The answer may be, yes, of course. But the money in this way contributes nothing to national defense.

This may seem comparatively minor. More serious is the question of whether proper standards are enforced in the training of air national guard pilots. I believe an investigation would show widespread disregard of the training regulations strictly enforced in the air force itself.

In the air force if any pilot falsifies a training record, he is at once brought before a court martial. All indications are that there is nothing like this scrupulousness in the air national guard.

On Feb. 21, Assistant Secretary for Air Harold C. Stuart in a talk before the Adjutant Generals association extended what the air force at times called "an olive tree" to the national guard.

His talk was taken as equivalent to saying Washington would in the future give the states a completely free rein. Maj.-Gen. Ellard Walsh, Minnesota, president of the National Guard association, chief foe of any degree of federalization, in effect accepted the Stuart speech as a friendly flag of surrender.

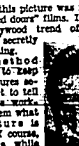

That this would exists will be vehemently denied by proponents of the state national guard concept. But an objective investigation, with, I am convinced, show that money is being misused which is urgently needed for national security.

One method they use to keep those pictures secret is not to tell the people working on them what the picture is about. Of course, once in a while they forget to tell the audience, too.

Studios will really go to a lot of trouble to get secret information about rival studios. Yesterday I was in the commissary having a dinner conference with my producer when I suddenly discovered my avocado was tasped.

They even hire saboteurs. One studio went so far as to have funny mirrors brought in from an amusement park so the stars would see themselves and think they were slipping.

College Vocalists Present Program

SHOSHONE, April 6—The Southern Idaho College of Education glee club gave a concert before the junior and senior high school students and townspeople Tuesday morning at the high school auditorium. Richard Montague is director of the group.

The glee club consists of 12 men, the Cardinals, and 11 women, the Cardinettes. Each group sang alone and they combined in singing some numbers.

Pat Dickinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dickinson, sang two solos, "Over the Rainbow" and "Tyree." Another local girl, Dorothy Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Floyd, was a member of the group.

Part of the program was impromptu in nature and featured humorous presentations. One of the Cardinals gave two humorous readings. A girls trio, the "Illiotics," sang two numbers, "Dinah" and "Sophisticated Lady." The trio was accompanied by Montague.

15 Killed, 60 Hurt In Train Accident

OVIEDO, Spain, April 6 (U.P.)—Police reported at least 15 persons were killed and 60 injured today when a Madrid-Gijon express train broke in two and three cars plunged 70 feet into a gorge.

The accident occurred while the train roared around a sharp curve between Tola De Lena and Ujo, 17 miles from Oviedo. It was crowded with workers and holiday-bound passengers.

Only a locomotive, a sleeper and a diner remained on the track.

The last coach hung precariously on the edge of the gorge after it catapulted from the track.

Foot of Snow Is Staying at Hailey

HAILEY, April 6—There are only 12 inches of snow left at Hailey this week nine less than last week, and residents opine with a few more sunny days there'll be none at all.

At Ketchum there are still 25 inches and comparisons at other spots where there was some snow left at this time last year are: Old Baldy No. 1, 40 and 24; Old Baldy No. 2, 36 and 40, and Old Bailey No. 3, 74 and 17.

There has been eight-tenths of an inch of snow since the last report with a water content of .02 inches bringing the total precipitation to 12.03 inches since Oct. 1, 1949, or 3.30 inches more than the average of 10.41.

U. S. Backing Reich's Entry In Unity Plan

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson has revealed the United States favors immediate steps to fit Germany into the organization of western Europe.

Specifically, he told a news conference, he wishes Germany would join the council of Europe. The western German government has been offered an associate membership in that international organization, but so far has failed to accept it.

Acheson discussed the German question briefly at a news conference at which he also announced that the 12 north Atlantic council nations have agreed the council should meet in London about May 15.

He will go to London by way of Paris, he said, and prior to the council meeting will hold a series of talks in the British capital with Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

The discussions of the big three western foreign ministers are expected to be concerned primarily with the future of Germany in relation to the growing integration of the non-communist European states. A showdown on American, British and French policies on this issue may very possibly develop.

The key to United States policy was given in Acheson's comments today and in a statement made in London last night by John J. McCloy, the American high commissioner in Germany.

"The fact is," McCloy told a London audience, "we cannot solve the German problem without fitting it into the larger context of a united Europe."

That also is clearly Acheson's view, and the ultimate goal of the United States is increasing participation for the reconstructed former enemy nation until it becomes a full scale partner in a western European union.

6 Children Killed As House Burns

TORONTO, Ontario, April 6 (AP)—Six children burned to death early today in a blaze which turned their home into a mass of flame within minutes.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harding, escaped through the flames with two other children. The rest of the family died in their beds.

One of the surviving children, 14-year-old Paul Harding, said, "I heard my sister Ruth calling to the others to 'wake up, wake up' but I guess they didn't make it."

The victims were Edith, 8; Earl, 10; Tim, 11; John, 12; David, 13, and Ruth, 16.

Phosphate Output Exceeds Farm Use In Western States

SEATTLE, April 6 (AP)—Idaho is producing today more phosphate fertilizer in the plants than is used by farmers of eight western states combined.

This is contained in a report on the Idaho industry at the industrial minerals conference of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers at the University of Washington.

Speaking were J. C. Miller, manager of the Westvaco chemical plant at Pocatello, and Hart W. Murphy, secretary of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.

Murphy told the engineers that further expansion of the phosphate chemical industry in the area is inevitable. He said all of the factors required for a heavy chemical industry are to be found, including oil, gas, coal, salt, phosphate rock and adequate power and dependable water sources.

State Wartime Base Checked As USAF Site

COEUR D'ALENE, April 6 (AP)—The former Farragut naval training station has been considered as a possible site for the inspection team which is looking for a place to put the new air force academy.

The team is composed of officers from the Seattle and Portland offices of the corp of army engineers. It was headed by Lieut.-Col. John P. Hueber, executive officer of the north Pacific army engineers division.

A confidential report on Farragut will be made to air force headquarters in Washington, D. C.

One of Many Sites

The sprawling former naval station was one of many sites suggested for the academy, which will be the air force equivalent of West Point and Annapolis.

During the war, Farragut was the nation's second largest naval training station. Great Lakes, Ill., was the largest.

Farragut, located on the shores of Lake Pend Oreille near here, was turned into an "overflow" college for ex-GIs after the war but closed its doors a few years later because of a sharp decline in enrollment.

Acquired by State

The state of Idaho has since acquired much of the property for a wildlife project but Gov. C. A. Robins has said the interior officials air force decided to establish the academy there.

Some of the buildings on the site have been torn down or are rotted but most are still standing.

The Spokane Chamber of Commerce, one of the groups which suggested Farragut, noted that the large drill fields on the site might be made into a landing strip. The air force has said the site must have airport facilities.

Bad Weather Delays Road Repair Work

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—Some Idaho highway repair work has been held up about 10 days by the weather, Lands field, chief highway engineer, reports.

He said permanent patching has been delayed by the wet, cold weather, particularly in north Idaho.

Some Work Done

He added that some thick patching of deep holes is going on and that some asphalt patching is possible. Reid said no attempt is made to carry out patching in many instances when the weather is adverse.

Another problem faced by the state highway department, Reid said, have been the numerous slides in north Idaho this year. He said the slide problem has been greater than usual.

Mud Delays Work

Soft shoulders and muddy ditches have also held up maintenance of borrow pits. Materials for road repairs until the ground dries and equipment can be used, he explained.

He said that major "tear up and re-lay" of highways is scheduled to start usually about July 1 in north Idaho and June 15 in the southern part of the state. He added that as far there is no indication that this work will be delayed.

Wholesale Prices Of Sugar Pegged At Former Level

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6 (AP)—The wholesale prices of sugar has been restored to its former level following a brief reduction, bulletins from processors indicated.

Officials of Amalgamated Sugar company declined to discuss the report, saying there was "nothing to be said." Amalgamated was the first to announce the original reduction.

However, bulletins received by sugar purchasers said the special reductions, in effect for several days, had been withdrawn by all processors, including Amalgamated Sugar company of Ogden and Layton Sugar company of Lehi.

Utah-Idaho Sugar company will follow others in restoring prices to former levels, said Douglas M. Scalley, vice president and general manager.

The return to the original level places the wholesale price of sugar in the Salt Lake City-Ogden area at $8.75 per 100 pounds.

Nevada Girds For Battle on Grasshoppers

ELKO, Nev., April 6 (AP)—The big bug battle is about to begin.

With sleeves rolled up and equipment on the ready, Nevada's grasshopper fighters are awaiting word of the first hopper to hop out of an egg in the remote Nevada-Oregon border area.

Mostly in Oregon

The blanket of grasshoppers that has flown in a northwesterly direction across Nevada during the last 15 years is about two-thirds in Oregon. The one-third left in Nevada is going to have a pretty tough time this spring, however.

Thousands of pounds of poisoned bran and hundreds of gallons of insecticides are in readiness here to be carried into northern Washoe and Humboldt counties as soon as an advance scouting group now in the area gives the signal.

To Cover 875,000 Acres

The poison will be distributed through sprayers, blowers and spreaders over some 275,000 acres by men from federal, state and county agencies. W. B. Mabee of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, grasshopper division, is operating supervisor.

The Nevada infestation, combined with the 600,000 acres the hoppers cover in Harney and Lake counties of Oregon, are described by the experts as the largest intense infestation in the country.

Neon Sign Rental Payment Is Asked

Electrical Products Consolidated, Twin Falls, filed suit in district court Wednesday against S. Ben Robinson, et al, for $1,260 alleged owed for rent of neon signs.

In the complaint, the company claims it took over a contract made between Robinson and the Cosgriff Outdoor Advertising company and that the defendant has failed to pay rent on signs erected at his cafe establishment, the Robinson Trailer Sales, Filer.

The plaintiff also asks interest since July 10, 1949, $150 for attorney fees and costs of the suit.

Beckwith and Langley represent the plaintiff.

Livestock Market Reported Slower

JEROME, April 6—The market was a little slower on common grades of cattle at the Tuesday sale held at the Jerome Livestock Commission company, according to Frank Thomas, and son, owners and managers. Quotations include:

Fat steers $23.50 to $25, fat heifers $19 to $24.50, fat cows $17 to $20, canners and cutters $13 to $17, bulls $19 to $21.50, veal calves $24 to $28, fat hogs $16.25 to $17.10, and fat sows $12.75 to $13.50.

Tractor and Car Involved in Odd Highway Mishap

FILER, April 6—A freak accident at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday sent a tractor spinning and a driverless car careening for 282 feet down U. S. route 93 six miles south of Filer.

State police reported a car driven by Ruben W. Ludtke, 35, Salt Lake City, was passing a tractor driven by Robert W. Miller, of Filer, when the axle of the tractor caught the door of the car. The impact spun the tractor around, upsetting it and throwing the driver off. The driver of the car was thrown to the floor and the car, without guidance, came to a stop 282 feet down the road.

Police said the car left the road on the left side a few feet from the scene of the crash, traveled 90 feet alongside the road, crossed back to the other side of the road and knocked down a mail box before stopping against a fence.

Miller was taken to a doctor's office where he was treated for bruises. The driver of the car escaped injury.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $300 each.

North Idaho's Union Merger Plan Defeated

WALLACE, April 6 (AP)—A proposal to merge three north Idaho locals of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) has been defeated.

Members of Mullan local 9 and Kellogg local 18 voted against it.

Favored by Wallace

Wallace local 14, the largest of the three, voted 95.2 per cent in favor of the merger, E. R. Everingham, financial secretary of the union here, reported. He said the voting was heavy. The exact vote was not given.

The Mullan local voted 104 to 67 against the proposals. At Kellogg, the vote was 557 to 459 against.

The merger would have created a union of 1,000 members, making it the largest IUMMSW local in the country.

Mullan Local Rebels

The Mullan local refused to follow the Kellogg and Wallace locals in a strike against north Idaho mine operators last summer. Union members at Mullan have opposed merger at two membership meetings.

The Mullan local had also recently asked the international union to replace Rt. W. Hanson as its representative here.

Hanson had proposed the merger, contending it would prevent a "split" in the district's union ranks.

Hanson is in Chicago this week.

Bond Election Slated May 2 For Richfield

RICHFIELD, April 6—A bond election will be held May 2 at Richfield to decide whether $12,000 in negotiable bonds will be issued to enable the village to participate with the state in improving the road known as the "Richfield spur road." Grading, resurfacing, oiling, drainage and culvert construction will be included in the improvements.

Approval of the bond will allow for curb-cutb improvements the full length of Main street and 125 feet of a busy sidestreet fronting the town auditorium, theater, Masonic temple, and the north side of the First State bank building.

A 20-foot center portion of the spur road will be constructed by the state with the village already having paid $2,541, which is its 20 per cent share of the cost for the center strip. Oiling and construction of this strip is in conjunction with the state's plan for improving the spur road for a distance of more than four miles north of town.

Definite date for the election was decided upon after public meetings had been held with taxpayers and interested persons given full details of the proposal.

Taxes in Richfield will not be increased by approval of the bond issue since water bond indebtedness was paid in 1940, village officials pointed out.

Experts Seek Harnessing of Power of Sun

SEATTLE, April 6 (AP)—Instead of looking for something new under the sun, scientists are looking at the sun as a source of power and energy.

"Solar radiation alone shows promise of providing all our future requirements of heat, light and power," a prominent engineering executive told a Rotary gathering.

Frank P. Benedict, manager of the Headquarters engineering for the Westinghouse Electric corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa., declared in an address:

No. 1 Source

"When our dwindling supplies of coal, oil and gas are gone, harnessed sunshine may well be our number one source of energy."

He rated our atomic energy as an untapped and practically inexhaustible source.

"Limited amounts of the two fissionable elements, uranium and thorium — will control the broad scale applications of atomic power. But it seems very unlikely that atomic power will ever supply any large proportion of our total energy requirement."

Issues Warning

But before the sun can be harnessed, Benedict warned that scientists will have to figure out how to capture the energy now lost when the sun's rays are reflected off the earth's surface.

"One practical way of doing this is by optical means—the old 'magnifying glass principle', he said. "In this way sunlight can be concentrated about 50,000 times to produce very high temperature furnaces. Russia is reported to have a solar boiler operating with super-heated steam at almost 900 degrees Fahrenheit."

'Engineer's Dream'

He called direct conversion of the sun's radiation into electrical energy "the engineer's dream."

He said another tremendous energy potential was heat from the depths of the earth—"if we can learn how to get hold of it."

"The earth is still radiating more energy than it receives from the sun," he observed. "What produces this energy is not understood, but it well might be by atomic fission."

ATTEND MEETING

CAREY, April 5—Mr. and Mrs. Golden Barlow and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Pratt attended a meeting of Young Republicans of Blaine county held at the courthouse. The group plans a Dutch luncheon sometime in April to stimulate interest in the organization.

Relation of Improper Sewage Disposal And Drinking Water Supplies Outlined

The problems of improper sewage disposal and its effect upon drinking water supplies in Magic Valley were pointed out Thursday by H. S. Post, senior sanitarian of the southern Idaho health unit.

He pointed out that septic tanks, even when functioning properly, do not purify sewage and that the septic effluents which load the soil in well-developed areas contain more bacteria than the sewage which went into the tank. "Although the effluent is clearer, that is no sign of purity," he explained.

Post urged the development of community sewage disposal projects whenever possible. Whenever such development is impossible, an adequate septic tank with properly-designed subsurface disposal is the best alternative, he said.

He warned that improper subsurface disposal can contaminate drinking water supplies easily in the porous lava rock of Magic Valley and mentioned the persistent stories among health department personnel of toilet paper being pumped through water sources.

Post quoted from an article by W. G. Clark, director of Idaho public health engineering, on the danger of Idaho sewage disposal. The article said, "In a large area of southern Idaho it is a common practice to dispose of wastes, including raw domestic sewage, private septic tank effluent and drainage water, into crevices and voids in the lava. Many public water supplies have their sources in the same rock strata receiving these wastes and this has resulted in contamination of underground water."

Clark's article went on to point out that no state water pollution legislation exists to apply to the practice of sewage disposal through lava, so "nothing can be done about the practice except to advise against it." The state engineering director added that water pollution is not at "a serious, critical or acute stage," but is a problem which it is felt the people of the state recognize and want to do something about."

He said the publications cover such operations as guaranties against embezzlement and merchandise thefts, introducing new employes to a business and its policies, planning retail newspaper advertisements, preparing self-service meat displays, operating a business, cutting costs in retail stores and many other phases of business.

"These publications have been designed to aid small businessmen who cannot afford experts for counsel in business matters," Bothne explained. Information on the publications may be obtained from the department of commerce field service, Portland district office, 520 southwest Morrison street, Portland, Ore. Publications may be ordered through the same office.

One man's "flying saucer . . . and its operators . . .

"We swear it! Our eyes don't play tricks." California bids for the "saucer" trade.

New Chapters Are Added by "Saucer" Saga

"Flying saucers" are on the prowl again. The sketch at right shows how one might actually look, according to Alex Tremulis, industrial designer of Chicago. Inset shows Tremulis' version of the two-foot-high men reported as "saucer" pilots in a recent story from Mexico. Tremulis believes the strange craft, of which hundreds have been reported, may come from another planet. Below, two air force sergeants, Bill Elder and Bob O'Hara, take an oath on the Bible that they saw a fantastic object carorling over a mountain resort near Long Beach, Calif. At left is their sketch of the "pinkish, pancake-like affair."

Below, right, Beverly Hills waiters, Mildred Hoskins, practices taking orders at a table reserved for one of those two-foot "disc" jockeys who might drop in for lunch at any time. Miss Hoskins reasons: "Everybody eventually comes to California."

d Newspaper Tells of Hope For Little Wood River Valley

By DELLA WEBB

, April 8—Filed away in a with other treasured mbered over the years is a worn and faded old newsThe Carey Clipper, which is property of Mrs. Emanuel and which points up considerable interest between the Little river as it was when the paper published in 1914 and the alley as it is today.

editor evidently possessed ideas of continuing the paper, of support from the small ally forced a shutdown of ast one issue, however, was free to all postoffice patrons hand written about the and out like a chapter from torical novel.

914 there were many dreams future shared by the greatest of the community's population, a dream of water being back when spring flood waters ceased to waste, waters which spread the difference between and failures after summer and growing things depended on many moisture. The Little River Canal company was in ancy.

1914 two major projects been built, the Fish creek dam and around 1918 and the Little river dam built during the ion years of 1935-36. These have "made" Little Wood alley, and yet, as new acreage has been brought under cultivation, ality of water is experienced a condition which has a factor in the stockholder's to enlarge Little Wood to twice its present capacity.

It was to be 10 years before a food plant was built to process the hundreds of gallons of milk the valley cows produced.

The LDS ward was a part of the Boise stake in 1914. On May 2, 1914, the Clipper reported a stake conference convened in Carey. It is hard to picture where 600 persons were accommodated at the sessions but that number attended.

The fact that 12 babies attended the meetings with their mothers, seemed important enough to be mentioned in the conference account.

A beautiful, modern edifice at Carey today likely comes nearer to seating conference-goers, coming from the dozen towns of Magic Valley which makes up the Blaine LDS stake.

Charles and Ben Ralles may have used a scraper on the muddy streets of Carey in 1914 but the highway of today is a gray ribbon running through town stretching far to the south.

To the north, a branch which joins route 93 A with 93, takes off to the west and thence toward the great winter wonderland which is Sun Valley. But Sun Valley was not even a dream back in 1914 when the Clipper visioned activity enterprise and industry for Little Wood river valley.

The editor promised to give details about the valley schools in the following issue, but it is not known whether the information was gathered or not. It is known that consolidation has closed the several small schools dotting the valley resulting in buses carrying all students and pupils to a central location which operates under one system.

E. L. Parks filed on 159.76 acres of homestead land and S. Parker Richards, now of Twin Falls, was being complimented upon the work he did in fashioning a pulpit for the Carey chapel. The Richards folks occupied the home now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Olsen.

The names of Edward Davis, Jody Cooper, W. L. Adamson, Alf Billingsley, Joseph Phippen and Thomas Evans, not to forget many more, recall early day history which is becoming a dim memory to those who helped to establish the community.

Newcomers to the valley in recent years accept Carey as she is today, little dreaming of the colorful and rich setting that was hers before radio, highways, airplanes and automobiles boosted her into the realm of modern living.

Books could be written, one about each pioneer family. The Carey Clipper has portrayed conditions as they were on May 5, 1914 to be preserved and compared by valley residents who have seen the realization of many things, which in 1914 were not yet dreamed of, or, were at best only the ideas of men who were determined to beat any opposition to their plans.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

The damage thoughtless children, and older children who should think, can do is shocking. Beyond the cost to the taxpaying citizen, and that is nothing to sneer at, lies the ignorance, the hate, the cruelty of spirit that moves children and youths to create damage.

When boys enter a school building and wreck it they are filled with the spirit of revenge. They are getting even with the teachers, the officers, the grown people who have, in some way associated with them in their life, displeased them. That they have inflicted grave damage on themselves and upon innocent people is not apparent to them. How can we train them to understand that the buildings, the gardens, the streets, the trees that go to make their dwelling place and home are theirs to protect and nurture?

Of course the best place to begin is at home. Children who are taught to safeguard property, to using anything that belongs to another member of the family, who are taught to care for their own things sanitarily, who are trained to not borrow anything but to meticulously return anything they may find belonging to another, will damage no property.

But what are we going to do about children who have no such training but come from a background that teaches them that they enjoy what we haven't got? Give tit-for-tat. Don't take anything from anybody. Just hand it back with one to the jaw? There are such backgrounds and they have tremendous influence on children.

The best way I have ever found of helping such a situation is to make friends in the children's homes. The teacher who is devoted to her charge will do that. The principal of the school who feels that it is his concern to lift the spirit and heighten the understanding of his people will do that. It means visiting the shops, the homes, the streets and in all sincerity, getting to know the difficulties, the aspirations, the disappointments, the trials of the people and lending a hand where it counts.

Let the neighbor whose walks are chalked, the householder whose windows are broken, the principal whose office is wrecked, the lady whose garden is torn up maliciously, take thought to themselves, question themselves. What is there—besides the obvious—to the children who wreak this havoc? What can they do to change the children's attitude toward them?

Make friends, sincerely, with them. Don't try to bribe them. They will scoop the bribe and pocket the bribe, only to renew their attack. Make friends of the wreckers. Teach them. Give them the activity, the attention and the affection they are longing for and the scene will change.

—A lady asks me how to teach things to her daughter. He is learning about the world. Parents can skip tables at times by reading Dr. Patri's leaflet, Pea Wrecking Things. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a self-addressed envelope to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station O, New York 19, N. Y.

Vitous Reports as Cowboys Prepare For More Games

By GUS KELKER

BOYES SPRINGS, Calif., April 6 (Special)—Lou Vitous, the erratic third baseman of the 1949 championship Cowboys, is still the same old "junior." The tall, lanky and popular player, who this year will probably patrol the rightfield garden, drove into camp Wednesday, immediately donned a uniform, stuck out his chest and said, "When do I start?"

He made the trip from his home in North Hollywood in one day. He was scheduled to report to camp last Saturday, but said, "through a misunderstanding," he was late getting here.

His arrival brings to give the number now here who played for the 1949 team. In addition to Vitous, there are Hal Danielson, Red Jessen, Bud Relyea and Dale Hittle.

In an intra-squad game Wednesday afternoon, Vitous hit safely in two trips. The game went only four innings and ended a long five-hour practice session. Manager Wally Berger instructed the players in base-running and sliding. While Syl Johnson continued to polish up the pitching staff and veteran Hal Danielson instructed the two other catchers.

The weather Wednesday did an abrupt about-face after being in the 80's; it was cloudy and chilly and the Cowboys had to hustle to keep warm.

"Doc" Anderson, the trainer, reports only a few sore spots have developed among the players. "I'm getting quite a rest," he commented.

In the intra-squad game the "home" club led by Jessen tripped up the "visitors" headed by Hittle 7-1. There were a total of nine hits and five errors made during the short contest. All hits were singles.

From all indications, the Cowboys of 1950 will not be the fence busters of 1949—at least not at the start.

With a wealth of pitching material on hand, it is believed the mound staff will carry more of the load in 1950. Camp observers believe the pitching strength here now is the best the Cowboys have ever had in one year.

Joe Devine, Yankee scout, gave the players a 30-minute pep talk in the morning before practice and after the players posed for pictures.

Among other things, he stressed importance of "playing ball all the time, even when you are off the field. When you are off the field, you must play it in your head."

Devine declared that "Of all the things that hurts a ball player most, worry over something is the worst—and the worst form of worry is puppy love."

Berger announced the players who will make the two-day trip to Stockton and Lodi Thursday and Friday. Those going on the trip are Jessen Milne, Ghulla, Malmberg, Matah, Washburn, Weaver, Campbell, Vitous, McKelvy Self, Danielson, Morris, Celer, Tressoder, Hittle, Stiles and Geels and Berger.

Eden Grizzlies Trip Filer 7-3 In Diamond Tilt

EDEN, April 6—The Eden Grizzlies defeated the Filer reserve baseball team, 7-3 here Wednesday afternoon in a practice session. Eden was limited to only two hits, but wildness on the part of Filer hurlers spelled the difference.

Filer took an early 3-0 lead, but the Grizzlies iced the game with the help of a six-run outburst in the fifth frame.

Masters Tourney Starts Today

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—The top flight of the touring golf professionals who have been doing horrendous things to par all winter, plus a dozen selected amateurs, started the spring tour today in the 14th Masters tournament.

Outwardly, it's just another $10,000 or more, 72-hole stop on the year-round golfing trail. But in most respects, there's nothing quite like the Masters, and that's why most stars would rather win it than anything except the national championships.

The field, which numbers 65 this year, is carefully selected. The course, noted for its beauty, provides about the severest, yet the fairest, test the tourists encounter on the regular round of weekly tournaments. And the prestige of the Masters, backed by the magic name of Bob Jones and built up carefully over 16 years, is second only to that of the open and PGA championships.

New York Mothers Shudder as Dizzy Dean Prepares Program

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—It's tough enough to find anyone left with a pure, rich Brooklynese accent and now, heaven help us, Dizzy Dean is with us.

Yes, old Diz is back in New York again. Not to pitch once more against the Giants or the Dodgers but to cast his Arkansas twang on the air waves as a television announcer for the New York Yankees.

The former pitching genius of the St. Louis Cardinals is going to do a daily TV program before and after Yankee games and every other day he's going to handle the play by play commentary, or 'commutatin'' as Dizzy calls it, over a local station.

When news of this startling event reached the ears of Brooklyn mothers, and Bronx mothers, too, there was great alarm.

Already the fine Brooklynese dialect (example: "Hoiman hoisted to Hoist at foist") has gone to pot under the daily broadcasting barrages of Mel (Alabama) Allen and Red (Florida) Barber, two rebels from the south who have achieved much success with the Yanks and Dodgers, and the radio and TV appearances of the illustrious Hopalong Cassidy.

Brooklyn mothers are having enough trouble with their chap-wearing, gun-toting offspring as it is.

A typical dinner time example:

Mother: "Maxwell, please eat your spinach."

Maxwell, scowling and twirling his six-shooter: "Ah reckon' Ah ain't aimin' to have no spinach, maw."

Now comes old Diz with his "sludin' into second base" and "Ain't that a beaut, ain't it, eh?"

"Don't aim to change either," said Diz, an old pro of the air waves with 11 years of St. Louis broadcasting behind him.

"Like Will Rogers said I'm gonna keep on sayin' ain't and I'm gonna keep on eatin'. If a guy sluds, he sluds, don't he? Nothin' wrong with that, is there? I'm gonna talk like I talked in Arkansas."

"When I do that play by play on television, I'm just gonna stick a couple of words in here and there. Ain't no use in just sayin' a batter is comin' to the plate," said Diz who's going to get around $20,000 per year for his video verse. "Shucks, everyone can see that. I'll have to commutate some more."

But what about the good people of Brooklyn?

"If they can't understand me, they got nothin' on me," replied Dean. "I can't understand them either."

First Ladies' Day of Season Held

Annual Hank Power's Relay Races To Draw Top Track Teams Friday

The top trackmen in Magic Valley will converge on Twin Falls Friday afternoon to take part in the annual "Hank Powers relays," the first major track event of the season. First races will start at 3 p.m. at Lincoln field.

Powers' strong Twin Falls team is favored to defend its title won in the relays last season. However, tough competition is expected from the Rupert Pirates, who have come up with a potent cinder team this season.

The track event will pull runners from Burley, Oakley, Buhl, Jerome and Gooding, in addition to Twin Falls and Rupert. Filer, the other class A team in the valley, does not participate in track events.

Burley, the defending district champion, was hit hard by graduation and is not expected to give either Twin Falls or Rupert a battle for top honors.

Oakley could be the darkhorse of track events in the valley. The success of Oakley's strong, but small squad, will determine greatly who wins the relays.

Twin Falls, in Jack Cross, Dale Deagle and Emerson Clark, boast three of the best runners in the state. All three are capable of breaking records this season. The Bruins also have enough depth to carry them through in the relay races.

In the recent intra-squad track meet at Twin Falls, the present Bruin cindermen broke five school records.

The relays, known first as the Twin Falls relay carnival, have been called in recent years the "Hank Powers relays," in honor of the veteran track and football coach at Twin Falls. Powers has headed Bruins sports for the last 14 years.

Bill Peters Scores Ace

Bill Peters became the second golfer to score a hole-in-one this season at the Twin Falls municipal golf course when he fired an ace early Wednesday afternoon on the 160-yard No. 4 hole.

The hole-in-one was witnessed by Ed Lander.

Peters was qualifying for the best-ball tournament at the time and the ace enabled him to finish 18 holes with a 74 score, low so far in the qualifying round. His first nine was fired in 35 and the back nine in 39.

Professional Earl Schneiter reminded golfers they have until Sunday evening to qualify for the best-ball tournament, the first major tourney of the season at the course.

Selectrics Hold Hitting Drills

LEWISTON, April 6 (AP)—A two and one-half hour batting practice occupied the Great Falls Selectrics Wednesday.

The Pioneer baseball league club apparently was being groomed for a better showing at the plate than it made Tuesday. Northern Idaho College of Education at Lewiston dropped the Selectrics 9-6 in a practice game.

Shortstop John Angelone missed the workout. He received a muscle injury in the game.

Scout Threatens To Sue College

TUCSON, Ariz., April 6 (AP)—A scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday night threatened to file a $50,000 slander suit against the director of athletics at the University of Arizona.

The scout, Tom Downey, said he would institute the action immediately unless J. F. McKale retracted charges that Downey had attempted to lure Arizona players out of school.

McKale is also president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches.

The charges were made in a letter sent to Frank E. McKinney, president of the Pirates.

Downey in a telephone interview with the Arizona Daily Star, said the charge is not true.

McKale said he would not make a retraction, and termed the suit "an excellent idea."

Quick Settlement Seen Over Golf's Split in Ranks

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—The central figures in what once was called a revolt within the PGA are predicting peace by Monday. George Schneiter, Ogden, who in three days has tumbled from PGA tournament bureau manager to a spectator here for the masters tournament, said today "all the trouble between our group of touring golf stars and the PGA can and will be ironed out by Monday night—maybe sooner.

"The desire of my group of governors and of the PGA are very close together. All of us want to stay in the PGA and the PGA wants us."

The PGA executive committee has called a meeting with the "11-golfer board of governors" Monday to discuss how, when and where golfers of the big money tournament circuits can obtain more authority in managing themselves. Among the governors are Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecoff and Jimmy Demaret.

The "why should they have more authority" question apparently is settled. The PGA is willing. It will offer a plan Monday which seems to please many golfers with minor reservations.

Form Two Committees

The plan, as outlined by PGA Secretary Horton Smith, is this: Form two new committees—a revised tournament committee and a ways and means group. Four of the tournament group's seven members would be touring stars. All of the ways and means men would be travelling professionals, therefore immediately available for complaints.

Schneiter would not criticize the plan and neither would a dozen stars as they practiced for the opening of the masters Thursday. In practically every instance they said they intended staying in the PGA and they thought a solution was in the making.

No changes have been made thus far in plans to leave Schneiter out of the meeting. Although he is spokesman and chairman of the players' "board of governors," Smith pointedly said Schneiter would not be invited to the meeting.

Not Force Issue

Schneiter said he would not force his presence, and added: "However, I'm beginning to believe I might be there after all."

In commenting on his firing as tournament bureau manager, Schneiter said, "The PGA was justified in firing me. I told them so."

Schneiter intends returning as a player on the circuit.

One of the basic causes of friction in the PGA is the different problems of its two types of members—the touring stars and the stay-at-home club pros. At present the stay-at-homes have more voice in managing PGA affairs, since, for one reason, they outnumber the travelers more than 100 to one.

NCAA Revises Structure of Cage Tourney

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association decided Wednesday to double the size of its postseason basketball tournament, the final round of which will probably be played elsewhere than Madison Square Garden.

Next year 16 teams instead of eight will be selected under new rules of procedure.

The NCAA executive committee also set up machinery that probably will bring recommendations to the 1951 convention in Dallas for modifying the controversial "sanity code" that governs subsidization of college athletes. Sentiment appears to favor softening the code to permit providing board and room in addition to tuition. This would please southern rebels.

The decision to change the basketball setup came following howls of protest over this year's selection methods—only one team was chosen from each of the eight national districts of the NCAA. This meant that strong small schools in areas dominated by major conference champions were bypassed.

Beloit, for instance, never was invited because the Big 10 champion, Ohio state, was selected. For a time it even appeared that Bradley, voted the season's best team in the final AP poll, might lose out.

Arthur Lonborg of Northwestern heads the committee that is working out the new methods of selection. The NCAA press spokesman was asked if this would mean that hereafter two teams would be chosen from each of the eight districts and he replied "not necessarily."

Huskies Overhaul Team in Drills

SEATTLE, April 6 (AP)—Coach Howie Odell, whose Washington football machine shapes up like a car with plenty of rear wheel zip but a fragile front bumper, made another shift from the backfield Tuesday in an effort to bolster the line.

The head man moved right halfback Gene Norton, a '49 letterman, into one of the guard slots. Last week he decided to convert left half Jim Wiley into a center.

Norton was a first stringer last season after Jack Seth was injured halfway through the schedule. He hung up a record of never losing a yard as a ball packer.

Odell indicated other spring training experiments may be in the offing.

MORE BASEBALL SEEN

DALLAS, April 6 (AP)—Dick Burnett, owner of the Dallas club of the Texas league, said Wednesday night major league baseball would have to come to the southwest and Pacific coast.

Yankees Send 4 To Kansas City

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees sent four players to their Kansas City farm club for more work Wednesday, with indications the men wouldn't be on hand when the season opens April 18.

They are pitchers Frank Shea, Wally Hood and Paul Hinrichs and first baseman Fenton Mole.

Reckless Driving Trial Under Way

Robert G. Atnip, 27, 430 Elm street, went on trial Thursday afternoon in justice court on a charge of reckless driving.

Atnip narrowly escaped injury in an accident March 7. His large sedan was a total wreck after rolling over near the Twin Falls cemetery.

Atnip pleaded not guilty of reckless driving when arraigned March 11. He has been free on $100 bond.

The case was being heard by a six-man jury.

Shipper Loss Predicted for Gate Opening

profit or a greater loss than the haul via the U. P."

Earlier, the U. P. continued its assault on the motives of the D&RGW in seeking to open the Ogden gateway.

Hearing on the defense phase of the case, being heard here by Interstate Commerce Commission Examiner Frank E. Mullen, went into its fourth day. As the U. P. stepped up the pace of its attack, D&RGW Chief Counsel Robert E. Quirk put more fire into his cross-examination.

Two union Pacific witnesses yesterday charged the D&RGW's action constituted an effort to enrich itself at the expense of the U. P. They were W. T. Burns, traffic vice president, and A. J. Stilling, assistant freight traffic manager, both of Omaha.

Stilling, whose direct testimony was covered by a prepared statement of 27 typewritten pages, spent better than three hours on the witness stand. And he still faced cross-examination.

"The only possible result," he said of the proposed gateway opening, "would be financial gain to the Rio Grande and a disproportionately greater loss to the Union Pacific because we would give up the revenue for a haul of about 1,000 miles for one of 111 miles and the Rio Grande would gain the revenue for a haul of about 600 miles."

He charged the D&RGW in demanding that the ICC order the U. P. to establish joint rates by way of Ogden was disregarding "the fact that the routes with the Rio Grande would on the average be about 200 miles longer than those presently in effect on 90 per cent and more of the shipments involved."

Minister at Buhl Presents Easter Message to Club

The Rev. Edwin Wiebel, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Buhl, presented the Easter message to the Twin Falls Kiwanis club Thursday noon at the American Legion hall.

Edith Corless sang "The Crucifixion," accompanied by Mrs. Charles Allen.

In other activities of the meeting conducted by President Juneau Shinn, four members were cited for achievement in club work. They are Joe McCollum, Dale Wakem, Clarence Ford and William Ireland. James Clifford McGilvray was inducted as a new member.

It was announced there will be no Thursday noon luncheon meeting next week. Instead, members and their wives will attend a club ladies' night dinner dance Thursday evening in the Legion hall. Gene Hammond is general chairman for the dance.

Tribunal Upholds Sutphen's Ruling On Gooding Land

BOISE, April 6 (UP)—Because the testimony was so conflicting the Idaho supreme court today decided not to disturb a ruling by District Judge D. H. Sutphen awarding a six-acre tract of land to Mrs. Emma Ayers. Her husband, E. B. Ayers, had appealed from the lower court decision.

Ayers had conveyed the land, in Gooding county, to his wife by a warranty deed. This was right after their marriage. Later he brought suit for divorce on grounds of mental cruelty and sought to get the warranty deed canceled. He failed on both counts but went to the supreme court on the land matter.

The high court said in an opinion written by Chief Justice Edwin M. Holden that it just couldn't tell from the testimony whether or not the deed was delivered to Mrs. Ayers with any conditions or restrictions.

Idahoans Testify At ICC Session

LOS ANGELES, April 6 (UP)—The interstate commerce commission resumes its hearing today into a petition for more trucking service between Los Angeles markets and northwestern states.

The commission is conducting a hearing on a petition by Consolidated Freightways for a new Reno-Los Angeles truck line. Four Idaho businessmen yesterday told the commission better and faster freight service is needed.

Elva Ingram, production manager of Fox Fixture and Supply company, Boise, Ida., said when a Los Angeles businessman buys items from his company, "he wants the goods the next day."

Navy Flying Boat Pilot Praised for Saving His Crew

HONOLULU, T. H., April 6 (UP)—The ability and speed of a navy pilot in crash landing the giant flying boat "Marshall Mars" at sea minutes before it exploded and sank was credited today with saving the lives of its crewmen.

The pilot, Lieut.-Cmrd. Glenn E. Simmons, Dallas, Tex., brought the huge craft, one of the largest flying boats in the world, down for an emergency landing shortly after its number three engine caught fire while on a test flight.

Before the Mars churned to a halt in the rocking seas about a mile and a half from Oahu, Simmons ordered his six crewmen to stand "at ready" with the lifeboats.

As the plane came to a halt, the crew abandoned ship, some swimming and others paddling to safety in lifeboats as an explosion tore through the craft and it burst into flames.

Optimism Sweeps Chrysler Parleys

DETROIT, April 6 (UP)—Optimism swept Chrysler strike talks today as the company "considered" the CIO United Auto Workers' new proposal to end the 72-day walkout.

Union and company spokesmen met separately while Chrysler pondered the UAW proposal, but conciliators were expected to call both sides together sometime during the day.

Gunman Slays Political Rival Of Pendergast

KANSAS CITY, April 6 (AP)—Charles Binaggio, onetime underling to the late boss Tom Pendergast, and an ex-convict were slain today in a political club.

Both men had been shot in the head. The ex-convict was identified as Charlie Gargotta.

Binaggio was head of a political faction opposing remnants of Pendergast's once-powerful political organization.

The club where Binaggio was found shot was headquarters for his political group which controlled several populous northside wards.

No Weapon

Lieut. Harry Nesbitt of the police homicide squad said no weapon was found in the clubroom.

Binaggio was found slumped in a chair. Lieutenant Nesbitt said Gargotta evidently had tried to flee and clawed at a venetian blind as he fell.

The political leader recently was a witness before a federal grand jury investigating underworld activities.

Chief of Police Henry W. Johnson said it looked as though Binaggio was shot by an acquaintance since he apparently was relaxing in the chair when he was killed.

Knew Legislators

Binaggio, who was 41, appeared several times at the Missouri capitol in Jefferson City during the recent session of the state legislature. He was well acquainted with some of the legislators.

After the fall of Pendergast's organization in 1939, James Pendergast, boss Tom's nephew, inherited remnants of the political group.

Binaggio later wrested control of several strong wards from James Pendergast.

Among the "Looniest"

The couple above appeared in "Ketchum Heifer," the winning skit in the Hailey "Legion Loonies." Here Myron Price is informing Peg Crabtree that, "it's all or nuthin'," and she replies, "It's all for you and nuthin' for me." Price is a carpenter-farmer, and Mrs. Crabtree's husband took this picture. (Staff engraving)

Golden Eggs Will Win Bunny Prizes; Treats Slated for All

The Easter bunny has replaced the stork so far as golden eggs are concerned, according to Robert Workman, chairman of the Jaycee Easter egg hunt which begins at 1 p.m. Saturday at the city park.

He said special arrangements have been made with the Easter bunny for hiding 18 golden eggs in the northeast half of the park. Youngsters finding golden eggs will be given genuine pink-eyed white bunnies.

The first thing for children to do when arriving at the park is to go to the bandstand for Easter egg treats for all and candy and other prizes which will be distributed at random.

At the bandstand the youngsters will be segregated into two age groups and sent to different portions of the park to hunt for the golden eggs. Boy Scouts and city police will be there to help handle the crowds.

Jaycees will dye 150 dozen eggs Friday night.

Butt sections of trees used in making turpentine have been found suitable for paper pulp.

Ancient Egypt Burial Ground Yields Bodies

HELWAN, Egypt, April 6 (U.P.)—Skilled Egyptian workmen have uncovered the well-preserved bodies of four men and two women buried for at least 5,000 years.

King Farouk financed the excavation in which workers specially selected for their delicate touch used shaving brushes to clear the last grains of sand from the coffins of grass in which the bodies had reposed for 50 centuries.

A young archaeologist, Zaki Saad, headed the expedition which found the burial site, dating from the first dynasty, in the suburban town 15 miles south of Cairo.

Grass Disintegrates

The old, dry grass disintegrated at the slightest touch as the coffins were being removed, and the bodies it had protected since the dawn of history began to be visible for the first time since about 3,000 B. C.

The first body uncovered was that of a woman. As the grass was cleared painstakingly away, her head still showed locks of hair. The skull and teeth were well preserved, and there was a distinct feminine contour to the rest of the body.

Embryo Position

The woman had been buried on her left side, facing west, with her head to the south. Her knees were pulled up to the breast. One hand was under her left cheek, the other rested on her chin.

Zaki said it was customary to bury the dead in the position of an embryo to prepare them for rebirth to eternal life.

Jars and skillfully worked small alabaster vessels and necklaces of colored stone lay under the body. There was no indication of her name.

One of the male bodies showed clear signs of having had a leg fractured when alive. The bone was removed carefully for examination by medical experts.

Children's Party Held at Richfield

RICHFIELD, April 6—A banquet program and children's dance was given for 70 children from the junior Sunday school and primary at the Richfield LDS church.

Easter motifs were used in decorating the banquet tables with bunny table favors. Miniature tables were used to seat the primary children. Linda Patterson gave the table blessing.

Gary Fehlman was master of ceremonies for the program with readings by Leroy and Mary Ann Lee, and Charlene Sorensen, songs by Linda Miller, Annette Leonard and Geraldine Giles, and a piano number by Norma Johnson. Mary Jane Miller was piano accompanist.

Mrs. Vern Thomas was dance director with piano music by Mrs. Leon Giles. The party was arranged by Mrs. Elmo Patterson, junior Sunday school superviser and her assistants, Mrs. Merl Sorensen, Mrs. Howard Campbell, Mrs. Clifford Dayley, Mrs. Murray J. Rawson and Mrs. Isaac Miller.

Rhythm Band Is Honored at Party

KETCHUM, April 6—The first grade rhythm band members and their teacher, Mrs. Paul Hall, were surprised Monday afternoon when an interested mother, Mrs. Erwin McPheters, called with special refreshments to offer her congratulations to them for winning first place in the organization section of the Hailey "Legion Loonies."

Features of the refreshment treat were a large, decorated cake, jello topped with musical notes, whipped cream and individual placecards, with the name of one of the youngsters embellished in multi-color musical notes. Mrs. Walter Kane, who made the band capes and caps also was a guest.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

Baseball's mightiest slugger and most glamorous figure, Babe Ruth, is seen in a typical pose—having just blasted one into the bleachers. A street urchin from the Baltimore waterfront, the Babe captured America's heart with his irresistible personality and amazing athletic prowess. His fame as baseball's home-run king came after Ruth had compiled a spectacular record as a pitcher. The Great Bambino's salary mounted from $600 in 1914 to a peak of $80,000 in 1930 and 1931 —baseball's highest at that time, and $5,000 more than President Hoover's. Shortly before his death, of cancer in August, 1948, the game paid high tribute to its greatest star in dramatic ceremonies at New York's Yankee stadium—"The house that Ruth built."

Valley Teachers Attend Meetings

BURLEY, April 6—Mrs. Cora Garner, Burley teacher and president of the fourth district Classroom Teachers association, and Mrs. Pearl McCarthy, representatives of the Cassia County Classroom Teachers association, have returned from Cheyenne, Wyo., where they attended the northwest regional conference of department of classroom teachers, National Education association.

Attending from Rupert were Virginia Hawk, teacher and secretary of the Fourth District Classroom Teachers association, and Josephine Sperak, representative of the Minidoka unit.

Representatives attended from Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Colorado and Nebraska. Marlin Bingham, state president of Idaho classroom teachers, was one of the panel leaders at the meeting.

Mrs. Garner said the teachers were urged to sell the schools to the public and be receptive to its wants of the public. They were told to develop proper attitudes, work for improved health, good grooming and personal appearance among members of the profession, for improved speech, and to maintain both a mental and physical balanced life. Higher standards and better preparation for teachers were stressed.

Wide Variety of Items Used for Easter Bonnets

Children in Margaret McAfee's kindergarten have proved that a few odds and ends, a few minutes of time and a clever idea can result in a lovely Easter bonnet. In fact, the makings of a splendid hat may be hiding in the closet.

After a search through closets, trunks and cupboards you'll be surprised to find you have a treasure trove of the best materials. Paper plates, frozen food containers, cereal boxes, doilies, artificial flowers and luscious-looking fruit from last year's hat, ribbon from old corsages, veils, those cute little chenille skunk lapel pins, and downy chicks from old Easter baskets are just the things you need.

Originals designed by the preschool tots include pillboxes, gallons, bewitching bonnets and pancake styles. The most nonchalant participant in all these doings is Bozo, the cocker spaniel mascot of the children. He just doesn't give a woof for that frilly topknot perched above his eyes.

Friday morning the children will model their hats in a special Easter parade to which mothers are invited.

Poison Warning Given Stockmen

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, April 6—The wind that blows arsenical sprays from orchards into livestock pastures this spring is likely to blow no good for the livestock owner. Drifting sprays of this kind can and frequently do cause the deaths of many valuable animals.

"Livestock deaths from this source come every spring and summer," says D. Lloyd Scrivner, station veterinarian at the university. "To add to the insult, some owners leave barrels of the spray sitting where livestock may get at them. Sometimes there is but little left in the barrels or on them, but the effect is the same."

Some of the weed killers contain such deadly poisons that cattle die from eating weeds or other forage treated with them. Arsenical stock dips, rat poisons, and insecticides of one kind and another take their annual toll of farm livestock.

Scrivner warns that the only safe way to use such chemicals is to make sure that no animal gets even a small amount of them. Careful use and proper disposal of all left over sprays are "musts" if trouble and loss are to be averted.

Savant Urges Unity to Stop Any Attacker

NEW YORK, April 6 (UP)—Dr. Robert A. Millikan, California Institute of Technology, believes the only way to abolish global wars is for all "peace-loving nations" to join in stopping any aggressor "even before he gets started."

Millikan, vice president of Cal-Tech's board of trustees and 1923 Nobel prize winner in physics, said the "responsibility is wholly on Russia" for sabotaging the efforts of the United Nations toward collective security.

World Unity Urged

"If Russia will not join in the effort," the scientist-educator said, "the next thing to do is for the rest of the world to keep strong themselves and to unite their strengths against any nation that threatens to attack any one of them."

Millikan discussed war and peace in an address at the 1950 brand names day luncheon at the Hotel Waldorf Astoria.

The fate of human well-being and human progress, he said, rests upon "two great pillars—the spirit of religion and the spirit of science." Both are needed for ending world conflicts, he said.

"Collective Security"

"The one hope before mankind for the abolition of world wars is collective security.

"The game of the aggressor nation has always been to pick off the weaker nations one by one. That is just what Hitler did and just what Stalin is trying to do now. But there is no nation on earth strong enough to dare to make war against the united strength of all the rest of mankind with any hope of success . . ."

YOUR GARDEN

By Arnold M. Davis

The basic purpose of foundation planting—the planting of shrubs around the base of the house—is to tie the structure to the ground—to make your home look like an integral part of the landscape. Shrubs also soften the corners of the house. Use the taller ones for this purpose. Carefully selected shrubbery planted near the doorway gives dignity and charm to the entrance to your home. During the first couple of seasons, clumps of annual and perennial flowers will help out by filling the gaps that remain until your shrubbery-planting program is completed. The most important rule in landscaping with shrubs is: Don't overplant! We have all seen houses that are all but obscured by great growths of bushes and trees. In choosing trees for your grounds, consider small flowering varieties like dogwood, crab apple, hawthorne, flowering cherry and magnolia. These, when in bloom, not only create beautiful visual effects but provide shade on your lawn and homes for the birds. Avoid such trees as pine, spruce and hemlock, unless you have a very large lot. They grow so tall and wide that they'll overshadow your house and throw everything else out of proportion. Flowering shrubs, mixed with evergreens, can be used as a charming background for your flower beds. A wall of shrubbery at the sides or rear of your backyard not only gives privacy, but can be used to screen any unaesthetic view, such as nearby factory or business buildings. It is important that your grounds be enjoyed by all members of the family. In planning your landscaping, therefore, take their needs and desires into consideration. If some like active games, plan an open lawn for such sports as badminton or croquet. Consider sand boxes and a portable wading pool for the youngsters, if any. If yours is the picnicking type of family, a corner of your grounds devoted to a fireplace and tables will make everybody happy. If you enjoy hours of lazy lounging in the summer sun, a terrace might be the answer. Whatever you do, the decision should provide the most satisfaction to the most people from your home grounds.

Carey Telephone Work Continues

CAREY, April 6—Work continues on reestablishing telephone service to 50 Carey homes which have been without service since Thursday night when a large tree toppled across the utility lines tearing out all wiring and felling three poles.

Streamlining of 'Old West' Is Shown in Moving 1,100 Cattle

By MRS. CLAIR KING

WENDELL, April 6—It was like turning back the pages of Idaho history and stepping into the "old west" when Elmer Nielson headed 1,100 head of whiteface yearlings for Three Creek and their summer home on the range.

Four riders, Nubern Mason, Mel Weinberg, Monroe Sagers, Harland Jewett, mounted their horses last week and turned toward Hagerman and the trail to the Bruneau desert, from Nielson's Sand Springs ranch.

As usual, weather in those parts this time of year was unpredictable. The sun would shine for a few minutes and snow would fall thick and fast the next few. The first two days out proved cold and stormy.

The first evening the men arrived with the herd at the corrals on the Bruneau desert where the cattlemen of the country spend the night with their cattle en route to their summer range. First come, first served is the code.

Fortunately the men found the corrals empty and eagerly drove their herd in. They made ready for the camp supper prepared by Jim Dobbs who brought up the grub in the modern "chuck wagon"—a trailer house pulled behind a pickup. That's somewhat more streamlined than the early day covered wagon. The camp cook maneuvered a wicked skillet and the weary riders consumed the ham and eggs, and the inevitable beef, with relish.

There still is much night riding when the cattle are being moved, for at times the trip is rugged and the animals become tired, thirsty and restless, but on this move the men sat up late and there proved to be no disturbance either from the old coyote or the once frequent rustler. Both are practically extinct.

The men were not all seasoned "cowhands," Harland Jewett being the only one who grew up in the Three Creek country with 10-gallon hats, boots, chaps and the jingle of spurs in his blood, besides Nielson who has been a farmer and cattleman the past 25 years.

To assist the men on their jaunt, Nobe Leland drove out from Wendell every day with his pickup, hauling water for the outfit. He picked up two weak calves and took them a day's ride ahead in the pickup.

The cattle were left on Poison Creek 25 miles southwest of Three Creek in Owyhee county. From there they will work their way to the Humboldt reserve in Elko county, Nevada, by the time summer comes to the mountains in June.

And there they will mix with 400 head which were turned out previously from the Nielson's "7U" ranch at Three Creek.

Nielson has done extensive ranching. He has a ranch on Camas prairie, is a partner with Hy Berkowitz on the famed Sand Springs ranch southwest of Wendell and the large ranch known as the 7U at Three Creek.

And although much of the flavor of the old west is gone, and modern improvements have entered to make even cattle ranching streamlined, there is still that wonderful feeling of achievement in the life of a rancher.

The men returned on the fourth evening bringing their horses back by trailer, a mode of transportation not heard of by the early day men but it is still wonderful life—that of a cattle man in the west.

University of Idaho Students Prepare for Livestock Show

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, April 6—University farms here once more are beginning to buzz with activity as college of agriculture youths work overtime with combs, clippers and scrub brushes to prepare for the 34th annual little International Livestock show. The show this year is scheduled for the entire week of April 24 to 30.

The 1950 program includes 27 contests ranging from price forecasting to fitting and showing an animal. Last year's first place winners are in charge of this year's contests.

"Whether the contestant shows a prime fat steer, judges poultry, or identifies seed grains, he or she is getting some down-to-earth practical know-how of what it takes to be a farmer these days," says C. W. Hickman, animal husbandryman at the university.

"Participation in the annual show creates interest and stimulates good work. These contests provide valuable experience and training for future activities in the many fields of agriculture."

Learning to fit and show fat stock for breeding animals prepares the student to handle and manage different classes of livestock, Hickman points out. The value in this training is in being able to dress sheep, swine, beef and dairy cattle in their "Sunday best" when they are for sale, he says.

Other parts of the program include contests in horticulture, poultry judging, seed judging and identification, judging dairy products, handling farm tools, livestock judging, and marketing and grading of grain.

Agriculture students first got the idea for a livestock show in 1923 when a course covering the fitting and showing of horses was offered. The first show was held the following year, patterned after the International Exposition in Chicago and the Pacific International at Portland.

Since 1923 the show has developed from a one-day affair to a week-long exposition. Contests are held each morning and afternoon of show week, climaxed by a parade and an evening show in the university field house on the last day.

Students fitting and showing animals draw for their animals five weeks previous to the show, then spend long hours of preparation working with the animals.

The show is student sponsored and a trophy goes to the contestant earning the higher number of points for the week. Winners in each contest receive ribbons, medals and other awards.

Hank and Buddies Create Stir On Program Over Staid BBC

By HENRY McLEMORE

LONDON, England—The British Broadcasting corporation, better known as the BBC, is without a doubt the most conservative network in the world.

It is run by intellectuals with foreheads averaging two feet in height, and the idea of a light program is a lecture by Sir William Thrip-Throp on the tariff rates in Tanganyika, or an hour of popular funeral dirges.

McLemore

To walk into a BBC building is comparable to walking into our supreme court building when the justices are sitting. The air is thick with solemnity, everyone from the page boys up are dressed as impeccably as Anthony Eden, and Oxford and Cambridge accents fly around the room like bats in a belfry.

Just how this august organization ever got around to asking three of us visiting American newspapermen to make a broadcast is beyond me. And, I am quite sure it was beyond it once we started to talk.

One of my companions on the air is from Texas, and has a twang to his voice like a cowboy's guitar. The other comes from North Carolina and speaks with all the clarity of a tobacco auctioneer. As for myself, I am from Georgia and no matter how affected I try to be, my voice always goes out over the air as if I were an end man in a run-down minstrel show.

The engineer who asked us for a voice test was the first BBC employe to get a shock he'll probably never recover from. I was looking at him in his glass-enclosed control room when the Texan whined his practice shot into the microphone. A look of profound amazement spread over his face, and he twisted his dials madly.

Then he called for the North Carolinian to run up, and then myself. At the end he looked as if he were going to cry, but it was too late to stop the program so we went on and made the recording.

Half an hour later, seated in a room with BBC officials and visitors, most of whom didn't know who we were, we heard the broadcast.

The effect on the audience was very bit as electrifying and terrifying as the celebrated "Invasion from Mars" broadcast by Orson Welles was on the people of the United States.

Everyone in the room, including one of the men who had asked us to do the program, expressed amazement that the BBC would allow such gibberish to go out over its channels. The listeners didn't seem to understand much of what we said, but what little they did understand they didn't like at all.

I thought I might well get a cuffing about the ears when it was discovered that I was the silly chap who had said that I thought an American football team would all but slaughter an English rugby team.

My two friends pulled what seemed to be similar boners, and when we left it was with a feeling that we stood little chance of becoming fixtures on the BBC program.

One thing I'll wager we did—we worked the complaint department of the BBC around the clock for the next few days, and a record is a record, no matter what kind it is.
